OBSERVATIONS

THE 1908 CROP.—The time for preparing tobacco seed beds for all who intend to grow tobacco crop during the 1908 season is at hand and many farmers throughout the county are quietly making preparations to sow their beds, others are hesitating and have not yet fully made up their minds while others have announced that they will not grow a crop this year and have joined the "no crop" movement of the American Society of Equity. The question of no crop for Washington county is an important one and means much to many of the farmers. A gentleman from the northern part of the county and who is familiar with the needs of the citizens of that section in discussing the matter with the News-Leader man said: "The missing of a tobacco crop for one year would be a serious matter with many of the farmers in the northern part of the county. The land for the most part is rough and the farms are small and not suited for general cultivation at all. The owners have for years made a living with a small tobacco crop and a little garden and the raising of chickens. They managed to find spots big enough on the hillside to grow a patch of tobacco and the proceeds from that tobacco has been their living. Were that taken away from them even one year these families would be made to suffer for the necessities of life. It is not a question of whether it is best for the tobacco interests to grow a crop this year or not, it is simply a case of 'have to' or suffer the consequences." We find that our friend is correct in his estimate of the situation. There is also a large element among the class of well-to-do farmers who would be seriously inconvenienced financially by the cutting out of a years crop.

BIG SALES.—There has been more tobacco sold by the farmers in Washington county during the past month or since Jan. 1st than there has been for a long time for a similar period of time. Since the failure of the 1907 pool those who had tobacco produced have been rushing their tobacco to the Louisville market where they were not in the pool are hauling to the American Tobacco Co.'s house at Lebanon and others are selling to local buyers who are reshipping and shipping to Louisville. This moving of the crop is being felt locally in the business of the town. The money market is appreciably easier and many small debts have been liquidated.

Lebanon Grand Jury.

The grand jury adjourned Wednesday afternoon after being in session nineteen days. There was a total of 251 indictments returned, the greater part of them being against alleged violators of the local option laws. Sixty of the indictments are against W. A. Ferrell, a Newport stationer, and thirty nine are against Mrs. Rosa Gleason, who is also engaged in the saloon business in New Hope. There are incidents charged selling liquor in a local option territory. There were also 23 other indictments returned for selling liquor in a local option territory, quite a number being against negroes. Mueller, Watten & Robert, the distillers, were indicted 53 times for selling liquor without license. Twenty true bills were returned against B. T. Conway, who is charged with furnishing a room in which whiskey was sold. For "selling whiskey to be sold in local option territory" there six indictments returned. Other indictments returned into court were for the following offenses: Obtaining money by false pretence 3, breach of the peace 6, carrying concealed deadly weapons 2, dynamiting 5, assault and battery 2, gambling 4, housebreaking 2, misappropriating property 1 and failure to ring bell and sound whistle when approaching crossing 2.—Enterprise.

Gets Judgment For $10,000.

THE JANUARY term of the Marion circuit court will close tomorrow, after having been in session for four weeks. While quite a number of matters have been adjudicated during the past week, the only case of importance to the public to be tried was that of Harry Lancaster & Co. against the local telephone company for $22,000 damages. The case was given to the jury Monday, after having been on trial for several days during the latter part of last week, and the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $10,000. A former trial of the suit resulted in a hung jury. The plaintiff alleged that when its night watchman discovered the plant to be on fire the night of July 4, 1907, he was unable to turn in the alarm for the reason the operator in the exchange did not answer the call. Something like twenty minutes was spent in trying to get the central office, and so much time was lost in this manner that when the fire department arrived the flames had gained such headway they were unquenchable and the entire plant was consumed. An appeal will be taken.—Enterprise

The Hipless Skirt.

The Richmond Register says when you see your wife or sister walking as if she were stepping over some obstruction, stepping high and for all the world like an old barnyard hen, don't "cluck cluck" to her. For fashion has decreed, in addition to new creations in dresses, that women shall adopt the new stride. It is the result of the hipless, tight skirt. To pull this new tight, machine-made skirt into the proper position, pointed downward, just as a hen wags her tail to keep it from coming up, is necessary, but the fashion in sound woman does not mind a little thing like that. If the new waist takes a seat, promises to Main street will soon look like a storm at sea. It is rising and falling waves giving the effect of storm-tossed waves.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Shocking Suicide of Dudley Milburn of the Chaplin Neighborhood.

On Wednesday morning at 4 a.m., near Chaplin, Ky., Mr. Dudley Milburn a highly respected citizen of Nelson county shot himself with a pistol, the ball passing through his body just under the lungs. Drs. Bard and Heiford performed an operation Thursday evening and Mr. Milburn died Thursday night.

Mr. Milburn formerly resided in this county and his many friends in the county sympathize with his family in their bereavement. Abatement of mind is said to be the cause of Mr. Milburn's rash act. Mr. Milburn leaves a wife and several children. He had been a good citizen. For some time the deceased had been in bad health and had become melancholy.

Case Reversed.

The Court of Appeals has handed down an opinion reversing the judgment of the Washington Circuit Court in the case of Commonwealth vs. C. A. Thompson. It will be remembered that Mr. Thompson was arrested for going into his saloon on election day. He was only in the saloon a short time and claims that he went into it for the purpose of getting his registration certificate that he might vote at the election. Thompson was arrested immediately upon coming out and was later tried in the Springfield Police court and fined $100. The case was appealed to the circuit court where the judgment was confirmed. The Court of Appeals was next appealed to with the result as above stated.

The Court in giving the opinion says: The court gave to the jury three instructions, the one most seriously complained of reads as follows: "If you believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant did open and go into his saloon on said day then it is immaterial why he opened it, or what he went into it for." This amounted to a peremptory instruction to find the defendant guilty, that he had opened the door of his saloon and entered it for the purpose of obtaining his registration certificate.

The witness for the Commonwealth stated in substance, that he was near the front of the saloon, that appellant was seen going towards his saloon a few minutes before he entered it. That he closed the door behind him, that he saw him behind the counter, that there was no one in the saloon with him that he did not see him handle bottles or liquor of any kind, that he immediately came out, closed and locked the door, and it was then that the witness made the arrest. Appella testified that he was not in the saloon for more than a minute. In our opinion this evidence did not make out a case against appellant. It does not show that appellant failed to keep his saloon closed during the day in the meaning of the statute.

Appellant, under the Constitution and laws of the State, had a right to vote on that day he could not perform that privilege without his certificate, unless he could have made affidavit that it was lost or destroyed, and this he could not truthfully have done for he knew where it was (see Act 1904, page 21). To say that appellant in possessing himself of his registration certificate in the way shown by the evidence, violated the statute referred to would be giving it a construction never contemplated by the makers.

To place the construction upon this statute contended for by counsel for appellee would prevent a saloon keeper from entering his saloon to put out a fire that had accidentally started therein.

For these reasons the judgment of the lower court is reversed, and a writ of habeas corpus is granted, with costs. Further proceedings consistent with this opinion.

Many Sleepless Nights Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most peculiar and dangerous cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Harper, editor of the Boring, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial result. In November last the cough again came on in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since."

Watterston on Temperance.

Henry Watterson in a red-hot editorial in the Courier-Journal on the temperance question among many other things says: "The drastic prohibitionist, who is the imical descendant of Cotton Mather, the true disciple of Philip of Spain, a natural believer in the Inquisition and the St. Inquisition, will none of such reason. He wants to make his neighbor as himself, and, unless his neighbor yields, he wants to kill him. It's not the idea at all that the saloons shall obey the law; it is that liquor shall cease to be used or even exist."

Laws to regulate the sale of liquor and increase the responsibility of liquor dealers, with a judicious and rational license system and a reasonable restriction, are wiser and more effective, and more likely to be observed and enforced whenever public sentiment approves them, than any prohibitory enactment. Local option laws, unlike prohibitory laws, do not cause the wholly different issues of saloon regulation and personally abstinent, and do not impose upon communities laws which public opinion will not suffer to be enforced. Local option constantly growing more carefully restrictive and stringent in supervision aims, whenever practicable, to draw the line between that part of the traffic which public safety requires to be prohibited and that part which, if even at all, is too remotely and indirectly so, to warrant an interference with individual rights. This policy trusts every community to handle its own saloon problem, regulating the sale of liquor according to its own desire and need; and the result has been, as agreed by all who know the facts, an average of effective and impartial law enforcement far above anything that could be looked for or has been reached under statutory or constitutional prohibition.

The Courier-Journal offers Local Option, each Civil District to be its own judge, as the alternative, and it believes that an infinitely better agent of real temperance than any other.

THE NEWS-LEADER

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

E. L. DAVISON, Jr.,

THURSDAY, FEB. 27 1908

A report, which however lacks confirmation on either from Winchester to the effect that a deal has been consummated between the American Society of Equity and the American Tobacco Co., whereby the latter company takes over all of the pooled tobacco at 15 cents per pound. The report is evidently premature. A conference of the parties has been on for two days but the results have not been officially disclosed. The friends of each side in this controversy and especially the lovers of law and order are hoping for a confirmation of the report. I would stop the agitation, the night riding and the no crop talk.

The Democrats of Mason county have nominated S. A. Shanklin as their candidate to succeed the late Virgil McKnight in the Kentucky Legislature. He is a strong Society of Equity man and it is said will vote for Beckham if elected. The Republicans nominated C. O. Dezman on a platform of law and order.

The Legislature is still "bill-busting" over the McChord bill and the county unit bill. The former will probably be disposed of to day while the fate of the latter appears uncertain.

HORSE

Breeders Attention

L. D. Baker Offers Fine List of Stallions for the Season of 1908 at his Stables, Fair Grounds Springfield, Ky.

I desire to express my thanks to the stock breeders of Washington and adjoining counties for their very liberal patronage during the past seasons and invited their attention to my list of stallions this season:

Moko Pearl No. 40394

Record 2:28, trial 2:18. The greatest trotting bred stallion. The handsomest one of the celebrated Moko. Moko Pearl is a bay stallion 15-3/4 hands, was foaled in 1903 and was bred at Walnut Hall Stock Farm, Lexington, Ky. He is by Moko, by Baron Wilkes, dam Queen Ethel, the dam of three in the list. Moko Pearl is out of Little Pearl 2:31 by Blunder Thomas. Little Pearl's dam is by Isoline.

Moko Pearl will make the season at $20 to insure a living colt and will be limited to 30 mares. The season ends June 1st. The following statement from this horse's former owner tells something of his individual merit. "Moko Pearl has been shown at the Kentucky fairs since he was a two-year-old and won practically everything he was shown for in harness and roadster classes. He won for two seasons at Georgetown, Lawrenceburg, Shelbyville and Lexington, defeating all classes. He came to us about the 5th of August 1907, during heavy stud season, and with 10 days preparation he was 3d at the Blue Grass Fair in the strongest roadster class seen in Kentucky in years. Peter The Great 2:07 was winner. These performances should stamp him as a good individual, and a good trotting horse. Mr. George Bowerman worked him for speed 21 days in his 3-year-old form and drove him to 2:24. Mr. Freeman trained him lightly (keeping him in show condition at all times) as a four-year-old and drove him in 2:19; in 1908, in 35 seconds. After showing him at the Blue Grass Fair last year we worked him a few miles and gave him a record of 2:28; we believe he is a good trotter and a game horse, this is the opinion of every man who has pulled a line over him. With a season's work he should trot in 2:12 or better. He has been pronounced by competent judges Moko's handsomest son. He is a clean shaven horse, a good legged one, and a very handsome fellow. His peer in a high class stock horse and prospective trotter for the green classes would be hard to find.

Red Bird

Registered 1906 Vol. V, A. S. H. B. A.

This horse is too well known to need any introduction to the breeders of Washington and adjoining counties. In the opinion of well posted horse men he is the best breeding saddle horse in the State. He made the season at stud last year and his fine crop of colts are testimonials to his merit as a breeder. Red Bird will make the season of 1908 at $20 to insure a living colt and will be limited to 50 mares. Owners desiring to breed to this horse should book their mares early.

Bouncing Connaught

No. 15272

Hackney Stallion, 15-3 hands, a beautiful chestnut sorrel with three white feet and "snip" nose. This is a remarkably handsome horse possessing the true "hackney" style and shape and is a fine actor. This is just the horse to improve the style and stamina of trotting bred horses. His colts make ideal roadsters and carriage horses. The stud fee for this Hackney Horse will be $20.00 to insure a living colt.

Sunshine

This fine young harness stallion is well known to the breeders of Washington county. He has made two seasons and has a fine lot of colts. This is just the horse to improve the style and stamina of trotting bred horses. Sunshine will make the season at $15 to insure a living colt.

I will also stand my fine male Jack, Bill Goebel on the same terms as last season $10 for a mare male and $8 for a horse male colt.

Parties interested in fine stock are cordially invited to visit my stables at the Fair Grounds and inspect my horses.

Chinese Rice Paper.

The rice paper upon which the Chinese do such charming drawing is a thin sheet of the pith of a tree.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble poisons upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear and the patient is left a mere shadow of his former self.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is a source of trouble to many a man for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine is scanty, if the child is restless, if the child is unable to control the passage, it is well afflicted with bed-wetting, depression, etc. because of the difficulty in kidney trouble, and the first step should be to have the treatment of these important organs.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles.

Women may take a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers.

In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but mention the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, add the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Leave Forest Weather.
Variations produced by weather on the above plant have been noticed by Prof. Newcomb, the initiator of the observatory at Denmark, Md., long back. From his notes he can construct charts four days in advance of the weather bureau, predicting storms, winds, changes and the like. The forecasts are made through the action of satellites of the sun, which are turned in every direction and brought

Court Notes.
Upon the conveying of circuit court Monday morning the grand jury was immediately impaneled and charged by Judge Thurman. The instructions in case were not out of the ordinary and set forth the law to the jury as to killing and dynam-iting fish, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, shooting on the public highway and gambling in regard to violation of the liquor laws Judge Thurman was very positive telling the jury that if they and that the law is being violated they should indict for each violation regardless of whom the victim may be.

To The Public.
Reports have recently been circulated in and around Springfield which do me a great injustice. One report is that I have been married and have recently been divorced. The ground for the divorce being "inebriety and cruelty." These things I denied, but it requires more than a denial from the man accused to convince a part of the public that a falsehood has been circulated. Therefore I publish the following letter which explains itself from Mr. J. Henry Miller of Louisville, Ky.

Acquaintance J. Ott.
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 25, 1908
Mr. Elmer, Springfield, Ky.—
Dear Sir: Yours of the 23rd at hand. Will state that I have known Mr. August Ott for about thirteen or fourteen years. He started to work for me when he was a boy of about fourteen;
learned the cigar trade and worked under me for about six or seven years. He proved,
during all that time, an honest and faithful employee. He comes of an honest and upright family,
and I know of naught against his character; feel proud of having young men like him in my employ. There is one other August Ott in this city, a man of middle age, a bartender by trade, married. Don't think he is in any way related to the above A. Ott. "Cigar Maker A. Ott" is not, or at least was not, married up to six months ago, the last time I saw him. I am most respectfully,
J. HENRY MILLER.

What is the true law of our life?
That is the question which each one sets itself to solve, and to the solution of which every effort is directed. The answer that Geo.

law in the moral as well as in the physical world, and that this law not be broken with impunity. A Causes Suspended Animation.

There is reason for believing that frightening often brings about suspended animation, rather than definite death.
It frequently causes a temporary paralysis of the respiration and heart beat, which, if left alone, will dissipate into death, but if intelligently treated will generally result in recovery.

It is by imitation, far more than by precept, that we learn everything, and what we learn thus, we acquire not only more effectively, but more pleasantly. This forms our masses, our opinions, our lives—character.

The men of character are the substance of business life and the conscience of society; they, and not the placidity, guarantee the execution of
the law.

Value of Men of Character.
Character is power. It needs no recommendation. It is its own credit.
The men of character are the sub-
stance of business life and the con-
science of society; they, and not the placidity, guarantee the execution of
the law.
